The government today appealed at the Osaka high court to overturn the Osaka district court's December 4th ruling that revoked regulatory approval for the Ohi No.3 and 4 (as below, "the court ruling") .

In response to the government's appeal, KEPCO will strive to show that the Ohi No.3 and 4 are safe to operate to get the court ruling overturned in the appeal court.

Furthermore, this case does not affect the operation of the Ohi No.3 and 4 because the regulatory approval by the government is valid until the judgement becomes final and binding.
